AMERICAN SOCIETY FOR ENOLOGY AND VITICULTURE

Symposium Overview

This Symposium is a unique retrospective of Dr. Singleton's work. Eight of the nation's leading phenolic experts will discuss their contemporary phenolic work based on high-lights of his research.

Topics will include the development of phenolic assays, construction of wine oxidation models, phenolic contributions to human perceptual response, occurrence of cinnamates in grapes and the formation of the grape reaction product.

A reception and banquet will take place after the symposium.
